

TAPIF Scholarships

Click on each school's logo to learn more about their program

BOSTON COLLEGE

The Department of Romance Languages & Literatures at Boston College offers the TAPIF Graduate Teaching Fellowship for the MA in French Studies. The fellow will receive full tuition scholarship, an annual stipend (currently $24K) for the duration of the 2-year program, and the additional, exclusive opportunity to host a TAPIF Information Session for Boston College undergraduates in the fall of their first year, for which the department offers a $400 honorarium. Potential applicants are invited to contact Professor Tina Montenegro tina.montenegro@bc.edu for further information. Boston College will waive the application fee of $75 for all applicants to the TAPIF Teaching Fellowship in French. TAPIF participants or alumni need simply submit an application fee waiver request (found within the application form) accompanied by a document attesting to their status with TAPIF.

Boston University Wheelock College of Education
& Human Development

BU Wheelock reserves some of its most generous fellowships to three top TAPIF alumni pursuing the EdM in World Language Education (French): one scholarship in the amount of $28,000 and two additional scholarships in the amount of $10,000, each for the duration of the graduate program. Application fees are waived for all TAPIF alumni. Please contact Dr. Catherine Ritz at critz@bu.edu for further information about this program and scholarship opportunity.

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY
History and Literature

Columbia University's MA in History and Literature (HILI) is a one-year Master's degree at Columbia's Global Center for Paris, Reid Hall. The HILI program offers an application fee waiver for TAPIF alumni applicants, and fellowships for top admitted TAPIF alumni MA candidates. Fellowships will cover between 15% and 50% of tuition fees. In addition, the most qualified TAPIF alumni applicants will be awarded an additional $2,000 stipend to help defray living expenses during the program in Paris. Please contact the program administration for more information and to apply.

 GRADUATE CENTER

The CUNY Graduate Center PhD program in French offers successful applicants a five-year fellowship package, including a tuition waiver and health insurance. They teach one course per semester in their second, third and fourth year and serve as writing fellows in their fifth. There is an abundance of additional opportunities. One fellowship is dedicated for TAPIF Alumni. The selected TAPIF alum will receive an additional $2,000 research grant for the first two summers. We also offer a dedicated fellowship for high school teachers interested in pursuing a doctorate while maintaining their current employment. For more information, please contact Professors Maxime Blanchard mblanchard@ccny.cuny.edu and Sam Di Iorio adiorio@hunter.cuny.edu.

Middlebury Institute of International Studies at Monterey

The Middlebury Institute of International Studies (MIIS) is a graduate school creating the next generation of global changemakers. The Teaching Assistant Program in France Scholarship guarantees TAPIF participants and alumni of 25% scholarships ($23K+ annually) toward a Middlebury Institute in-person master's degree. Application fees are waived for all TAPIF alumni. Middlebury Institute Online programs are competitively priced and not eligible for scholarships.

AMBASSADE
DE FRANCE
AUX ÉTATS-UNIS

*Liberté
Égalité
Fraternité*

FRANCE
ÉDUCATION
INTERNATIONAL

ASSISTANTS
DE LANGUE

TAPIF Scholarships

Click on each school's logo to learn more about their program

Middlebury
Language Schools

Middlebury Language Schools (Middlebury, Vermont and Paris, France) provides generous scholarships to qualified TAPIF participants pursuing MA degrees in French and Francophone Literature, Cultural studies, Linguistics, French Language Teaching, and in Migration or Development studies. We welcome proficient French language speakers and writers with a dedication to cross-cultural learning to apply to one of our French MA degree programs. TAPIF alumni are eligible for an application fee waiver and to apply for need-based graduate financial aid, awarding up to $38,000 in grants. With this generous funding, students may pursue graduate studies at our campuses in Vermont and in Paris at a significantly reduced or no cost. For information and to request a fee waiver, please contact frenchgraduate@middlebury.edu.

NYU

NYU's Institute of French Studies provides a cutting edge interdisciplinary program that investigates the Francophone world through historical, political, cultural, and sociological lenses. Continuing our strong partnership with TAPIF, the IFS reserves some of its most generous fellowships to TAPIF alum pursuing an M.A. These TAPIF Scholarship Awards will cover up to 100% of tuition fees for the most exceptional applicants. In addition to these funds, the IFS provides opportunities to teach in the French Department, as well as course/research assistantships. Furthermore, the most qualified TAPIF applicants may be awarded an additional $3,000 summer stipend to help defray living expenses during the summer program in Paris. TAPIF participants are also encouraged to consider applying to one of our joint PhD programs: IFS/ French, IFS/History, and IFS/Anthropology.

NYU's French Department also offers a $1,000 start-up fund to TAPIF alumni accepted into the PhD program, in addition to the 5-year annual stipend of $35,000 that students receive. To waive your application fee, please contact Lucy Rosenberg at lr1760@nyu.edu.

PennState
College of the Liberal Arts

Penn State will offer a "TAPIF Scholarship" to a promising former TAPIF participant who is accepted to the graduate program in French and Francophone Studies. The awardee will receive a $4,000 scholarship in their first semester in the program. In addition, a $2,000 top-off award will be added to the annual stipend in years 1-5 of the awardee's graduate program. Applicants must submit all of the required application materials to the Department of French and Francophone Studies. The application fee is waived for any TAPIF alumni. To access the fee waiver, applicants should email Professor Jean Claude Vuillemin, Director of Graduate Studies at jcv1@psu.edu.

Alumni of the Teaching Assistant Programme in France \(TAPIF\) are welcomed to return to France to study their master's degree at Rennes School of Business.

Our Master's Degrees span a duration of two years. Individuals with a 4-year Bachelor's Degree have the opportunity to apply directly to the second year of the program. The standard tuition fees for our Master's Degrees amount to €10,000 for the initial year and €15,000 for the following year. For the international Master in Business Administration (IMBA), which has a one-year duration, the fee is set at €20,000. TAPIF Alumni are automatically entitled to a 10% reduction in fees for both Master's years and a 15% reduction for the IMBA. Furthermore, TAPIF students, upon admission, can apply for additional scholarships.

Rennes School of Business is eligible for U.S. Federal Student Aid, providing further financial assistance options for qualified students.

Contact : Monica Medina , Head of Latin America Office & International Admissions Advisor, Rennes SB International Development.

AMBASSADE
DE FRANCE
AUX ÉTATS-UNIS

Liberté
Égalité
Fraternité

FRANCE
ÉDUCATION
INTERNATIONAL

ASSISTANTS
DE LANGUE

TAPIF Scholarships

Click on each school's logo to learn more about their program

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

UChicago's Department of Romance Languages and Literatures encourages former TAPIF participants to apply to the PhD in French and Francophone Studies program with a waiver of the application fee. This fellowship will offer full tuition coverage ($65,145/year in 2023-24), an annual stipend ($45,000/year in 2024-25), the Student Services Fee ($1,398 in 2023-24), and fully paid individual annual premiums for the University Student Health Insurance Plan. The top ranked TAPIF alumni admitted applicants will also receive a research fund of $300 per year during years 1 and 2 of their program, and a one-time research and travel award of $2500 upon reaching candidacy.

UF offers full tuition waiver and a paid graduate assistantship for up to two promising former TAPIF participants accepted and enrolled in the M.A. in French & Francophone Studies program. UF Grad-TAPIF awardees are also eligible for additional summer FFS research funds (upon dossier), as well as research stipends from the France-Florida Research Institute (upon dossier). Awardees with research focus in French Jewish Studies are eligible for additional scholarships of $5000 and summer research funds (upon dossier).

THE UNIVERSITY OF MISSISSIPPI

The University of Mississippi offers full tuition waivers and paid graduate assistantships (up to $11,000 per academic year) to up to two academically promising TAPIF alumni each year. Please contact the department directly for more information on this opportunity.

UNIVERSITY of VIRGINIA

The Department of French at UVA welcomes applications from former and current TAPIF participants and will waive their application fee (contact avo2n@virginia.edu for information). Applicants admitted into our PhD program receive full funding for 5 years (including all tuition, health insurance, and a stipend of $24,000 per year); an additional $5,000 start-up fellowship will be awarded to at least one qualified TAPIF alumnus/a who is accepted.

Tulane
University

The Tulane Department of French and Italian would like to encourage qualified former Teaching Assistant Program in France (TAPIF) participants to apply to and enroll in the PhD program in French Studies at Tulane University. Application fees will be waived for up to 10 TAPIF participants and alumni each year. Contact the Tulane Department of French and Italian directly to apply and for information on the TAPIF Alumni Fee Waiver.

AMBASSADE
DE FRANCE
AUX ÉTATS-UNIS

Liberté
Égalité
Fraternité

FRANCE
ÉDUCATION
INTERNATIONAL

ASSISTANTS
DE LANGUE

TAPIF Scholarships

Click on each school's logo to learn more about their program

The Department of Romance Languages and Literatures at Washington University in St. Louis invites TAPIF participants to apply to our doctoral program in French Language and Literature. Our fellowship covers 6 years of funding with 100% full tuition support, an annual stipend ($35,000 for the coming academic year), and a 90% health/dental/wellness subsidy. In addition, our TAPIF awardee will receive a guaranteed summer stipend of $2,000 for three summers (with the possibility of applying for more) and an annual travel stipend of $1,500. For more information about our program please contact Director of Graduate Studies Tili Boon Cuillé (tbcuille@wustl.edu) or visit our website: <https://rll.wustl.edu/french-graduate-programs>.

The AMERICAN COLLEGE of the MEDITERRANEAN

The American College of the Mediterranean (ACM) encourages TAPIF alumni to continue their time in France by pursuing a master's degree at ACM's Aix-en-Provence, France campus. TAPIF alumni are automatically eligible for $7,500 per academic year when they enroll in any graduate program at ACM. All graduate programs are one-year terminal master's degrees except for the MFA program (two years). ACM will also waive the application fee and provide an expedited application review process. Additional scholarships and grants may be available. For more information, please contact Jonathan Belk, Assistant Director of Admissions, at admissions@acmfrance.org.

The School of Languages, Literatures, and Cultures at the University of Missouri offers two TAPIF Fellowships of $5000 for entry into our Master's program. In addition to the award, graduate instructors in our program teach one course per semester. Benefits include a full tuition waiver, health insurance, and salary (currently around $19,000/year). As members of a vibrant, multi-cultural community, you will also have the opportunity to work with faculty and graduate cohort in our ground-breaking Afro-Romance Institute and newly formed Interdisciplinary Migration Studies Institute. We offer two degree tracks in French: 1) MALT (Masters in Language Teaching) and, 2) Culture and Literature track. Applications are due by January 31. Application fee waived for TAPIF alumni. For more information contact: siped@missouri.edu.